Grass Lake, Lotus agree Meet on merger July 9

by JAN GEHRIG

The proposed consolidation of the Grass Lake and Lotus School Districts, approved by officials of both boards, will be the subject of a public hearing at 7:30 p.m. Monday, July 9, in Courtroom 202 in the County Building, Waukegan.

Conducting the hearing will be Bill Thompson, Lake County regional superintendent of schools, who said citizens of both districts will be able to express their views on the proposal.

Before consolidation goes into effect, it must be approved by the state. And the final decision rests with the voters in November.

A petition for consolidation was submitted to Thompson by Grass Lake officials June 13, the day after the board voted to approve the merger. Lotus officials approved the proposal last month.

"These districts have to prove that the consolidation will serve the best interests of the children," said Thompson, who already favors the consolidation of the two small districts.

According to the petition, the proposed educational tax rate of the new consolidated district, if approved by the state and the voters, would be $1.56 per $100 of assessed valuation. The current Grass Lake rate is $1.49, while the Lotus rate is $1.79. Thompson said the building tax rate of 25 cents would remain the same.

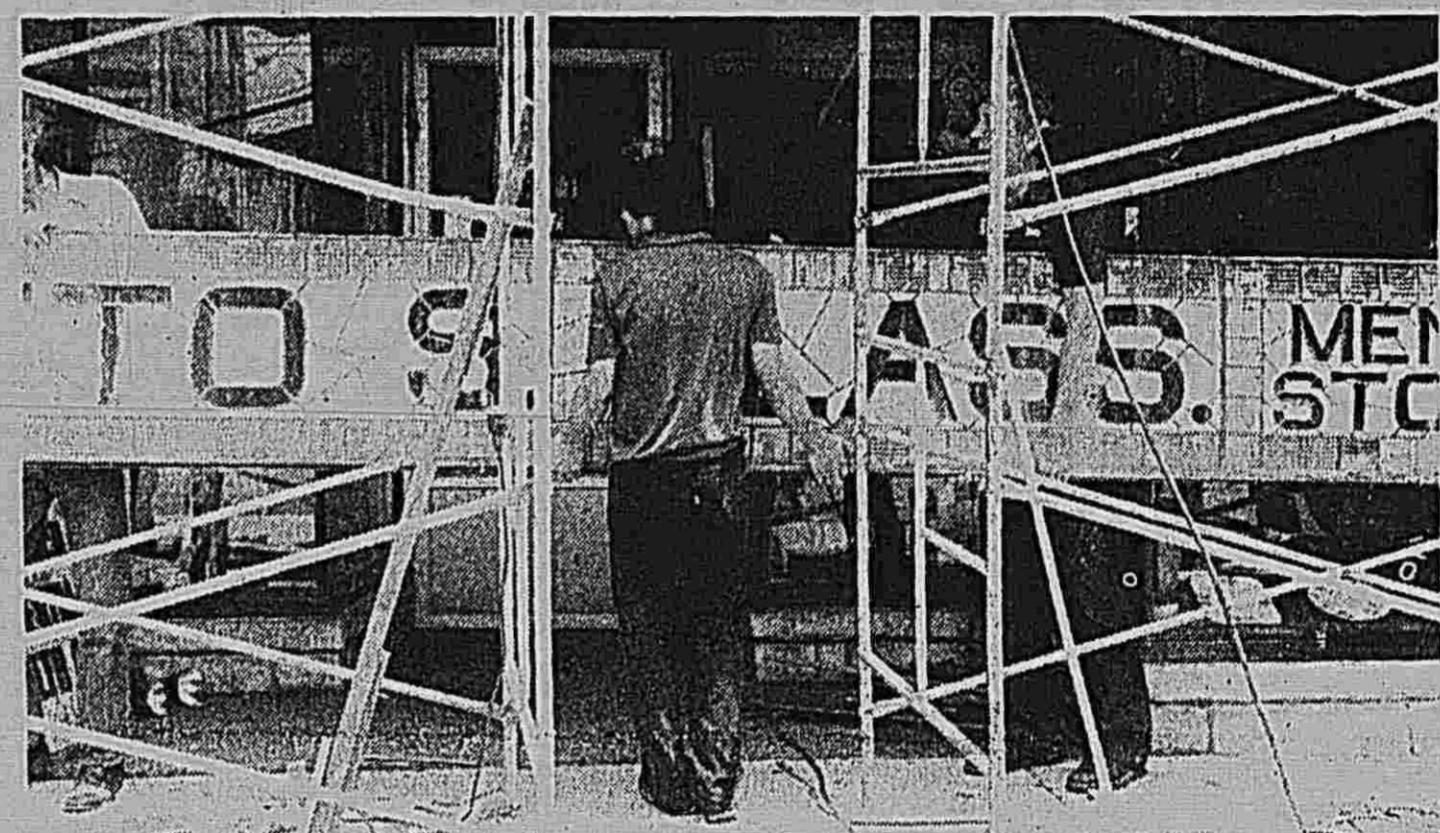

He also noted that students from Lotus go to Grant High School, while Grass Lake children attend Antioch High School. "This would not change with consolidation. They would go to their same high schools," the county superintendent said.

The proposed consolidation has been under study since January when superintendents and board members were briefed on the legal procedure by Thompson. Also, the proposal has been investigated by a joint ad-

Township accepts bid on Lake Catherine plan

by GLORIA DAVIS

Hopefully the Lake Catherine drainage project will get started in approximately 30 days now that the Antioch Township Board has accepted a $103,335 bid on its construction.

According to Antioch Township Supervisor Jim Fields, the board accepted the lowest of the eight project bids it received at its regular meeting on June 14.

A base bid of $98,800 plus an alternate bid of $4,535 for culverts was made by J & H Assn., Arlington Heights.

The culvert bid was low enough for the board to accept instead of the township doing it, so it was accepted and added to the base bid.

Fields said the base bids ranged from $98,800 to $176,531.

Fields has the authority to sign the contracts which will get the project started as soon as J&H submits the proper insurance papers and bonds required.

Fields added that target completion date is "estimated" at eight weeks after the starting date.

The township board also voted to donate $300 toward DeKalb Township's pending legal fight involving a township's handling of the general assistance fund.

A DeKalb County resident named Rodriguez is suing that township for back assistance he claims he should have received in 1975.

Fields said that if DeKalb township loses the case, every Illinois township could also be made to pay back assistance which could add up to a very large amount of money.

Job outlook improving

Employment prospects in northern and central Lake County are good for the next three months, according to the quarterly employment outlook survey conducted by Manpower, Inc., the world's largest temporary help service.

Chuck Bartels, owner of Manpower's Lake County operation in Gurnee, said "among local employers interviewed, 33 percent said they would increase staff during the third quarter. Only 13 percent plan decreases while 51 percent anticipate continuing at present levels and three percent are uncertain of third quarter plans."

The local outlook is near the national average reflected in the survey. Thirty-one percent of the 11,000 employers contacted nationally plan to add staff. Only six percent forecast decreases.

During the previous quarter, 40 percent of the Lake County employers contacted planned increases. Last summer, 30 percent of the employers predicted more hiring.

Workers in construction and services can look forward to seasonal gains this summer, according to Bartels. There is also a favorable outlook for workers in durable goods manufacturing, wholesale and retail trade, finance, insurance and real estate.

Reductions are anticipated in education. Other industries should remain at the same level.

Miss Antioch hopefuls to have pictures taken

Antioch Parks and Recreation's Miss Antioch Committee is holding a photo session on June 27 with all of the Miss Antioch contestants.

There will be pictures taken throughout town and they will attend the Antioch Chamber of Commerce Golf Outing with Miss Antioch 1983 Nancy Koziol.

Any girls planning to sign up should do so before June 19 as there will be a social and viewing the Antioch Pageant films.

One may come into the parks office at 874 Main St. and see Glenda for details and information on entering the pageant. The Pageant will be held July 3, at 7 p.m., at the Pavilion in Williams Park.

Highlight Ted Costoff in Ace Hardware report

Theodore "Ted" Costoff, Ace Hardware dealer and Ace Chairman of the Board, is featured in Ace's 1983 Annual Report being sent to Ace's more than 4500 dealers.

Costoff, operating Ace stores since 1957 with his brothers, now owns stores in Richmond, Walworth, Antioch, Delavan, Burlington, Elkhorn and Lake Geneva.

He represents the Chicago Ace distribution center in Addison, which opened in 1978. It services almost 500 dealers in most of Illinois, Wisconsin, Upper Michigan and Northwest Indiana.

The center employs more than 200 people.

Addison is one of Ace's 10 distribution centers. An 11th facility, located near Little Rock, Ark. is under construction.

Highlights of the Annual Report, entitled "Horizons Without Limit," include:

Ace's 10th distribution center opened in Yakima, Wash. and now serves some 300 dealers in the Pacific Northwest.

Construction of Ace's own paint manufacturing plant in Matteson will enable the company to provide a more comprehensive paint program.

Ace has entered the automotive "hard parts" market, including alternators, water pumps, starters, disc brakes and exhaust products.

A new import office has been created to negotiate with foreign manufacturers, helping Ace maintain a competitive position.

The year 1983 marked the third straight Ace has been able to maintain its low cost distribution without increasing freight rates.

Ace has installed the largest single computer installation in the Chicago area with an IBM 3081. Up to 12 million instructions per second are handled by the system, enabling a broad range of services for Ace dealers.

A real estate department has been created to help dealers secure new locations or assist them in the sale of existing businesses.

A marketing division has been developed to help dealers and the company increase market share.

The number of Ace dealers increased by 465 in 1983, bringing the total to more than 4,400.

Sales reached $801 million, up 9.3 percent.

To meet increased competition, Ace has increased its price sensitivity, offering special prices on circular and advertising items as well as other bargain promotions.

In reviewing the accelerated growth pattern Ace has been developing since early last year, Lawrence R. Gavin, president and chief operating officer, said: "We have made a recommitment to the merchandizing philosophy which has served Ace so well over its 60 year history. Corporate objectives have been spelled out to give dealers more of the right product mix at competitive prices for increased profitability. The right people, right programs, and certainly the right dealers are in place to achieve even greater results in the future."

When I think about it Mosquito attack merits declaration of war now!

by GLORIA DAVIS

Have you gotten a load of this year's mosquito crop? There are some really big suckers waiting to lunch on you out there.

I guess we shouldn't really be surprised. Not only did the overabundant early summer rainfall forecast the mosquito onslaught, but those fashion designers in Paris must have also known it was coming last January when they previewed their new summer clothes.

They've put netting or mesh on everything and I'm assuming this is their semper paratus.

Just think, there you are jogging down the street in your Calvin Klein knit layers and as a bug battalion advances toward you, you just pull your mesh tank top third layer over your face and go merrily on your way unscathed.

There probably is no safety value in outfits that merely have mesh inserts unless the little buggers suffer from an image complex.

But let's not make light of this problem that will no doubt get worse as the summer progresses.

Spraying, the use of insect repellent, anti-bug lites, bug zappers and importing purple martins are some of the mosquito deterrents made available to us.

I've even heard that Avon has a cosmetic hand lotion or oil that has turned out to be the garlic that defeats these vampires.

They say that spraying isn't effective unless you get the larvae, so this turns out to be not only a continual, but also a long and expensive process.

And if everyone has a bird house filled with martins in their yard, we might be facing a situation where the salvation becomes the ruination.

I'm a Hitchcock believer and we all know what happens when the birds in a certain area outnumber the humans. Being pecked to death by a woodpecker is not my idea of a glamorous way to go.

And the rat-a-tat noise made by those zappers almost makes mosquito bites preferable.

The other evening, I glanced at my garden (three rows of petunias and several potted geraniums), and to my horror, the dandelions had taken over. So I decided, since I had gotten this far into horticulture, I might as well get out there and do battle against those fuzzy invaders.

I did everything but drink the Cutters and had to beat a quick retreat within minutes.

I once heard that a breed of mosquito that is impervious to all known deterrents has been discovered in Central America and is heading northward.

I don't care what one's politics are, if this is really what the CIA is trying to undermine down there, I'm all for it!

The good old summertime just ain't the same without picnics filled with the ants we have all grown to know and love ever since Adam Ant came on the scene.

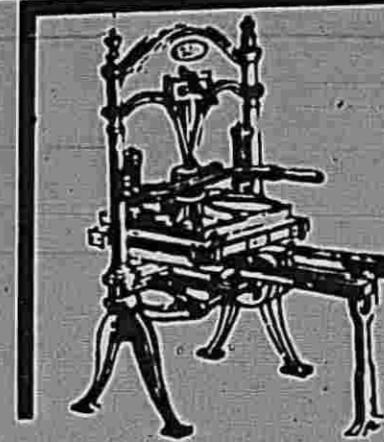

But the voracious appetite of the mosquitoes of the summer of 1984 that promises to make us the main course at every outing calls for immediate and drastic action!

I can think of no better reason to declare war on a particular species than the thought of the impact on the economy caused when it is necessary to add to the federal budget the cost of psychiatric care for mothers who will be forced to keep their small children inside all summer.

Now that we can shoot down missiles with missiles, is it beyond the expertise of our scientists to figure out how to do away with these almost microscopic villains?

Personally, I think this project should get top priority. The problem is here! The Russians and space travel can be put on a temporary hold.

What we need to do is write our congressmen, senators and President Reagan before it's too late and summer '84 just an inside memory.

FIFTY YEARS AGO: June 21, 1934

Edward Paske and Ward Wilton did well in the poultry judging, placing in third position out of 190 judging teams at the annual state judging contest.

J. P. McGee arrived in town on his way to his summer home in Wisconsin with a truck load of furniture that was on fire. It was quickly extinguished by the Antioch Fire Dept.

Mr. and Mrs. Hugh Galbraith were given a ceremonial ride on the Antioch Fire Truck as a token of respect since the bride was the daughter of Fire Chief Stearns.

A shower was held for Mrs. L. John Zimmerman by Mrs. Frank Mongam.

Mrs. Otto Christensen and Dorthea Nelson had a surprise birthday party for Dick Farm.

Raymond Forester was bitten by Mrs. Schumacher's police dog.

Golf fees for 18 holes at Our Country Club on Hwys. C and 83, north of Antioch, were 75 cents on weekdays and $1 on Sundays.

THIRTY YEARS AGO: June 24, 1954

Hugo Bleich enlarged his Beach Grove Rd. subdivision by tearing down a large barn to build more houses.

Rosalie Morris, Nancy Swenson and Donna Reidel, accompanied by Wendy Midgley, were a singing trio which performed at Antioch's public band concert.

Sixty members of St. Ignatius Parish welcomed the bride of Father Edmund Hood at a potluck supper in the church. The congregation presented the couple with a set of silverware.

The Armond Rossi Trio was playing at Pasadena Gardens for dancing pleasure.

Smart's Country House had a Friday Fish Special for $1 per person.

A part of Hickory Corner School District petitioned to become a part of the Antioch Grade School District.

The Lake County Fair was being held on the Wauconda Grade School grounds.

TEN YEARS AGO: June 19, 1974

It was predicted that Antioch Township's population would grow from 13,500 to 20,000 by 1990.

"The Sound Of Music," starring Ken Souse, Mary Chris LaKome and Mary Beth Bentel opened at the PM&L Theater.

Leslie Zimmerman was the youngest participant in the Lakeview Girl Scout Council's Cyclethon.

Dolly Spiering was installed as the new president of Antioch Chapter of the American Assn. of Retired persons.

The flying dragon is a lizard that lives in Asia and the East Indies. It can spread out folds of skin to form "wings" which it uses to glide through the air from tree to tree.

Along the way with ANNIE MAE

Well, wasn't that rummage sale at St. Peters just the best sale yet!

Old Annie Mae has now got her new shoes for the next few seasons. How could I resist even those purple sequined ones at 25 cents a pair.

And Ricky Apostol's jewelry display down in the ever-so-chic "French Room" was just out of this world. I found some melon-colored beads for 50 cents that don't go with anything I've got but I'll see if I can match them to something during Maxwell St. Days.

Hey kids! I sure hope that you're progressing on your pet-bike parade project. Old Annie Mae is thinking of buying a large loaf of French bread, slicing it in half and putting some jaggedly cut gold crepe paper and her pet dachshund "Gretel" between the slices.

See, I'll have the only self-propelled hot dog in town!

Don't forget the News-Reporter sponsored event at 10 a.m., on Saturday, June 30, at the Lions' Pavilion in Williams Park.

Good Luck to Mathew Mercereau, son of Cecilia Mercereau, who has just signed-up for the U.S. Air Force delayed enlistment program. He will be earning credits towards an associate degree in applied sciences through the Community College of the Air Force while attending basic and other Air Force technical-training schools.

Many congrats to three of Antioch's scholars who got their sheepskins from Loyola University, Chicago.

Julie Koss got her bachelor's degree in business administration and marketing; Stephen Kioszak received his degree in arts and philosophy and James Manczko was awarded his in business administration and production management.

Musical congrats are also due two Antioch High School stars, Chris Kusher, who won the Arion Award for vocal music and Wendy Vos, who won the John Phillip Sousa Award.

How about those Antioch Jaycees making cable TV news with their sponsorship of the 1984 Shooters Education State Competition!

The Jaycees also tell me that their Fourth of July plans are progressing well. The dunk-tank rebuilding is doing fine, fir-works are set to go and Ernie Levas is scheduled to perform both nights!

Drinking age raise still in senate bog

According to Antioch Police Lt. Tom Fisher, the Antioch Police are averaging 10 drinking-driving arrests on the weekends and at least one DUI per night on weekdays.

Back in the late 1970's, before Illinois raised its drinking age to 21, sending kids from 18 on up over the border to do their drinking, "We sometimes had as few as three DUIs all summer," said Fisher.

Fisher said that over 98 percent of these arrests are of people between the ages of 18 and 25 who are going over the border to drink, or returning from an evening partying in Wisconsin.

On June 14, after President Ronald Reagan endorsed the bill that carries the amendment withholding some federal highway funding from states that refuse to raise their drinking age to 21, proponents of the bill were very optimistic that the U. S. Senate would approve it as the House of Representatives had just done.

But, by June 15, the bill was already bogged-down in the senate, with the liberals calling the bill too tough and the conservatives saying that it was too lenient.

Previous political rumors said that any possibility of the squelching of the amendment rode on the bill itself because, though the addendum itself was greatly favored, the bill that is attached to could possibly find opposition.

The house version caters to special interest highway projects and the senate's is tied to pork barrel concessions.

Representatives of the liquor industry have repeatedly said that the money loss is not their main concern, but that, in their opinion, "schooling and proper instruction on alcohol abuse would be much more effective in solving the drinking-driving problem."

These representatives do not mention that statistics show that 70 percent of the money spent on liquor in this country is spent by "heavy drinkers and alcoholics," the people whom statistics also show are to blame for the majority of the drinking-driving accidents.

If the amendment is passed and Wisconsin does not raise its drinking age, that state will lose almost $8 billion in road funds three years after the bill is passed.

Despite repeated protestations from the liquor industry that the money loss is not the main reason they are fighting such legislative tries as this, statistics also show that a large percentage of the population presently drinks more from the ages of 18 through 25 than they will during much of the rest of their lives.

Lipton's Tennis Match set

A Lipton Iced Tea Mixed Doubles qualifying tournament has been scheduled for June 23 and 24 at Antioch Community High School Courts, Antioch.

"Players should participate in this nationwide, amateur tournament, and compete for a trip to the National Finals," Glenda Tomaschik said.

Details for interested mixed doubles are available by contacting Tomaschik at Antioch Parks and Recreation, call (312) 395-2160.

Amateurs of all abilities may compete in the Lipton Iced Tea Mixed Doubles Championship, National Tennis Week's (NTW) popular nationwide tournament. The winners of each qualifying tournament proceed to one of 128 sectional events in July and August, from which the winning team advances to one of 32, one-day regional playoffs in August.

The regional winners, each with a guest, receive an all-expense-paid trip to the national finals.

Chris Evert Lloyd serves as NTW's National Chairperson.

visory committee comprised of board members from both districts.

"All the impetus has been positive on this and I have not heard any valid objections from anyone," Thompson said, adding any objections can be expressed at the July 9 hearing.

Comments from citizens, as well as Thompson's recommendation on consolidation will be forwarded to the state office of education for action, Thompson said.

Outlining the procedure, he said that if consolidation of the two districts is approved by the state, the proposition will appear on the ballot in November.

The merger must be approved by a majority of the voters living in the area encompassed by the two school districts, he said. If district residents vote "yes," then the next step is to elect one new board of education for the consolidated school district.

This election would be held next February and, if both current boards agree, the new board could take office in March 1985 or, at the latest without such an agreement, in July 1985.

By September 1985, the children of Lotus and Grass Lake could be attending school in their new, consolidated district. Under a feasibility study, which was approved by the two districts, children in kindergarten through third grade would attend Lotus School, while the remainder would go to Grass Lake School, Thompson said.

Thompson said that with declining enrollment, "the kids at Lotus are not getting a fair shake." Then he added, "You need a stronger economic base for these small schools."

RESEARCH ON DECAY PREVENTION

Q. How is science trying to find ways to combat tooth decay?

A. Researchers are currently working on various methods of protecting teeth with oral immunization using benign bacteria to combat the microorganism most responsible for decay — the streptococcus mutans. This particular germ does its destructive work faster and more effectively than any of the other microorganisms in the mouth, yet it makes up only 20 percent of the total number.

Scientists are also looking for a vaccine against caries-causing bacteria, one that will be long-lasting and safe for humans. They are exploring the possibilities of a controlled-release antiseptic, and looking into the tooth-decay retardants in saliva that might be added to plaque-causing foods. Identification of specific tooth-damaging foods on the market is still another approach being followed.

All of these methods, a combination of them, or something still not discovered, will ultimately help to further combat decay.

Board closes DeFoor hearing

The testimony has ended and the waiting has begun in Martin DeFoor's attempt to change the zoning on a 3-acre portion of trailer park on Elime Rd., near Bluff Lake Rd.

The hearing, which began in March, closed June 6. The Zoning Board of Appeals for the Lake County Board will review the testimony at 9:30 a.m. Friday, June 29 and make a recommendation as to whether to grant DeFoor's petition.

He had petitioned to have the RR zoning of a portion of trailer park changed to CR to match the rest of the park so it legally could be used as a trailer park, along with the rest of the property.

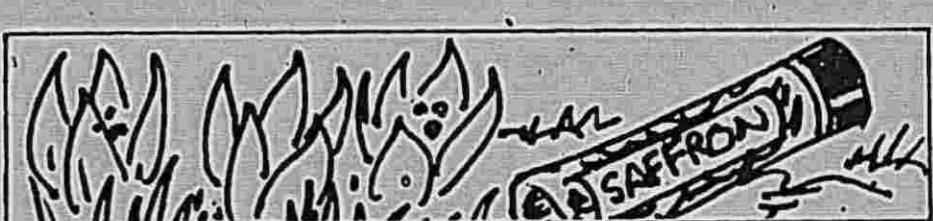

WHAT WAS YOUR TIME? — Runners from all over Lake County took part in Raymond Chevrolet sponsored run. No doubt a little bit of fast-slow time talk took place over refreshments.

NEVER TOO OLD — Ray VanHoogen, 74, was oldest participant in run starting at Raymond Chevrolet. Eric Poley, 3, Waukegan was youngest.

Crime Imput factor

State Sen. Adeline J. Geo-Karis, (R-Zion), said she is co-sponsoring a bill that would allow the victim of a crime to present a statement about the impact of that crime at the defendant's sentencing hearing.

"This bill, SB 1793, also would give the victim the right to report on the effects of a crime to the Parole Board when the defendant is to be considered for parole," Geo-Karis pointed out.

"I feel it can be very important in these cases for the judge and later the parole board to know just what far-reaching and sometimes devastating effects crimes have on victims and their families and friends," Geo-Karis stated.

"Certainly an innocent victim deserves 'a day in court.' A written statement from a victim could be significant both at the time of sentencing and when prison release is being contemplated for the person responsible for the crime," she added.

The bill also would require the court to determine at the hearing whether restitution to the victim is appropriate, Geo-Karis said. It provides that a victim should receive at least 15 days notice of the date a hearing is scheduled.

Co-sponsors of the bill with Geo-Karis are Sens. Prescott E. Bloom, (R-Peoria) and George E. Sangmeister, (D-Joliet).
